

Worksheet for Organizing a Lesson's Objectives

| Brainstorm Relevant ObjectivesAs a model, look at Talbert's work on p. 108 with a history objective (understanding the U.S. entry in WWI). | Organize Objectives in Order of Cognitive ComplexityBloom's Taxonomy is a useful tool—and so is your professional judgment. | Identify Basic and Advanced ObjectivesWhere's the line between objectives students can reasonably be expected to address independently and those more suitable for the group space? |
|---|--|--|
|   |  |  |