

SPECIAL NOTICE
Writing Support: Spring 2020 Semester

The Writing and Learning Center's on-campus space is closed for the time being, but beginning March 23, some of our team members will still be able to offer writing consultations in an online format. To schedule a writing session, UIW undergraduate students should reach out over email: wlc@uiwtx.edu. The appointment will be scheduled in Zoom, and students will receive a link to access the session. Please note that availability is more limited than before the lab closed, but we will make every effort to accommodate students. Feel free to reach out to us with any further questions.
